

JOINED IN WEDLOCK.

LOBERG-MAXWELL.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Maxwell, 315 Center avenue, at 8 o'clock last evening. The contracting parties were Oscar G. Loberg and Miss Elizabeth Maxwell, and the nuptial knot was adjusted by Rev. I. G. Monson, of Amherst. Arthur Gunderson acted as best man, and Miss Anna G. Loberg, as bridesmaid. The ceremony was witnessed by the relatives and only a few of the most intimate friends of the young people, but thereafter a few hours were spent very pleasantly by all present. Mr. and Mrs. Loberg have abandoned the discomforts of a wedding tour at this season of the year, and instead will remain in the city, to be at home to friends, at 211 Plover street, on and after July 15th. The groom is employed in the service of Uncle Sam as mail carrier, being one of the original appointees, in December, 1892, and is a young man of strict integrity, worth and ability. He was born in this city, being the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Loberg, who are numbered among our most honorable citizens. Being educated in our public schools, he stopped shortly before the time in which he would graduate, in 1889, to prepare himself to enter upon the contest for admittance into the military school at Annapolis, Md., to which he had been appointed by Congressman McCord. After a fruitless attempt, he returned home, and for two and one-half years thereafter was employed by the Jackson Milling Co. The bride has lived here for the past two years, coming from St. Paul with her parents, where she lived during most of her life. Her father is now assistant superintendent for the Central at Minneapolis. She is a young lady who has made many warm friends during her short residence in Stevens Point, being the possessor of a happy, cheerful disposition and many most exemplary traits of character, and the hundreds of friends of both the bride and groom will join with THE GAZETTE in extending hearty congratulations.

SMILLIE-M'ADAM.

There was a quiet but pretty wedding at the home of Engineer Jas. McAdam, 403 Church street, at 11 o'clock last Monday forenoon. The contracting parties were a sister of the gentleman above mentioned, Miss Jennie McAdam, of this city, and Harry Smillie, of Chicago. Rev. E. P. Rankin officiated, and Mr. and Mrs. McAdam acted as witnesses. After the ceremony and a wedding dinner had been partaken of, the newly married couple took the 12:30 train for Chicago, where they will make their future home, the groom having already furnished a neat flat on one of the principal thoroughfares, where they will be at home after the 20th inst. A number of handsome and appropriate presents were received, among them being a valuable silver set from Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McAdam and silver articles from Mrs. G. W. Hungerford and Mrs. J. H. Bellinger. The bride is a native of St. Thomas, Canada, but for the past few years has made her home in this city. She is one of the best young ladies in the land—kind, pretty, free and noble-hearted. The young man who has won her is fortunate indeed. He is assistant depot master for the Central company at Chicago, and has known his bonny bride from childhood. In fact, they sat upon the same wooden bench and pondered over words of the same syllable, when both were "little tots," "way back home" in St. Thomas. With an acquaintance commenced soon after leaving the cradle, there should be no mistake, and THE GAZETTE trusts that a happy future is in store for both.

ALLEN-FANCHER.

At half-past two o'clock last Wednesday afternoon, Prof. Wm. E. Allen, proprietor of the Stevens Point business college, was united in marriage to Miss Cora B. Fancher, the impressive ceremony being performed by Rev. Webster Miller at the home of the bride's parents, O. L. Fancher and wife, 308 Division street. Will Fancher and Miss Lizzie Allen, brother and sister of the bride and groom, respectively, acted as groomsmen and bridesmaid. After receiving the hearty well-wishes of all present, a wedding repast was served. The young couple are now in the western part of the state, leaving here on the 5:45 train Wednesday evening, and they expect to spend a couple of weeks at Eau Claire, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Chippewa Falls, at which latter place Mr. Allen's parents reside. The bride is a graduate of the Stevens Point High school, class of '93, and during the few years she has made this city her home has formed scores of friends. Prof. Allen has lived here about two years, is a gentleman of education and good business ability and a pleasant fellow in every way. They will be "at home" after Aug. 1st at 312 Center avenue. We take pleasure in extending congratulations.

Death of Miss Mary Van Order.

At the home of her father at Jordan, in the town of Hull, five miles northeast of this city, Miss Mary E. Van Order passed away, at three o'clock last Saturday afternoon, after a short illness. She never enjoyed robust health, but was always able to take an active part in household duties, so much so that many who knew her best were often surprised at the great endurance possessed by one so apparently frail. Less than two weeks before death she was taken ill, and despite everything was done to relieve and save her life, she continued to sink until the final summons came at the hour above stated. Death was caused by acute tuberculosis. The deceased young lady was born at Jordan in July, 1865, and was therefore 29 years of age. She was the oldest daughter of Chas. Van Order, one of the early residents of this county. Her mother died three years ago, and besides the father, only one sister, Miss Lorraine, is left. The funeral took place on Monday forenoon, the procession arriving at the Union cemetery in this city at noon. Rev. R. H. Weller officiated, and the pallbearers were Will and James Dugan, Roscoe Muzzy, Henry Harwood, John Vaughn and Geo. Reading.

A Little Girl Drowned.

At about half-past ten o'clock, last Friday forenoon, a little girl named Mabel Houck, daughter of a widowed mother, Mrs. Mary Houck, was drowned in the slough between the old Wade mill and the first bridge. She, with another little girl, were upon a raft made of plank, and when near the shore the latter jumped off. This pushed the raft out further, and in an attempt to save herself, little Mabel either jumped or fell into the water. Two of her brothers, one older and the other younger, were with her at the time, all being engaged in catching drift wood. These, with other children, commenced to call for help. Herman Krembs, a member of fire company No. 1, ran to the rescue, but before he reached the spot, she had gone down for the last time. The older brother was struggling to save his sister, and would have shared her fate had not Herman pulled him out. Herman then jumped into the water, which was about seven feet deep, but it was so dirty that he could not locate the body. It was found after being under water for about thirteen minutes. Drs. Trimble and McGregor were on hand soon after, but it was then too late to save the child. Besides the mother, a sister and three brothers, all of whom are older except one, are left to mourn. The funeral took place at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, with interment in the Episcopal cemetery, Rev. R. H. Weller officiating.

Another Officer is Needed.

P. C. Kelly, who has efficiently and faithfully acted as merchants' police in this city for the past two or three years, no longer acts in that capacity, serving his last time on Saturday night, in accordance with a resolution of the council cutting off the monthly allowance of the city. THE GAZETTE believes that this was a grievous mistake, as it leaves the main business part of the city with only one night policeman, and the territory that this officer is obliged to cover is by far too much for any one individual. With one man on duty, there is too great an opportunity for burglaries being committed at one end of the principal thoroughfares while the officer is at the other. Then again the danger from fires is increased many fold, and if for no other reason than the latter, another policeman or watchman is demanded. Mr. Kelly was doing police duty as well as acting as watchman, and for the first named service, in which he was both competent and efficient, never failing to respond when called upon, or neglecting to act when his services were required, he received the sum of $25.00 per month from the city. About the same amount has been paid him by the merchants. We understand there is a disposition on the part of some of the aldermen to hire another regular officer and pay him $50.00 per month for night duty. Will a change of this kind benefit the city $300 per year? We do not believe it. By all means have another night man placed on duty at the next meeting of the council, and in the meantime the mayor should appoint a man temporarily.

A Card.

We wish to return thanks to the many kind friends in this city, who during the illness of our little son, were so true and devoted, and who also remembered the afflicted ones after his death.

SCHOOL BOARD ANNUAL.

Five Members Re-elected, With a Change in the Fourth Ward.

Thirty-eight voters were out in the First ward, at 7 o'clock last Monday evening, and 23 of these cast their ballot to re-elect W. W. Spraggon as a member for this ward for the ensuing two years, and 15 votes were deposited for W. B. Buckingham, the former being declared duly elected. Mr. Spraggon acted as chairman of the meeting, and E. D. Glennon as secretary.

In the Second ward Owen Clark was chairman and D. A. Agnew secretary. Sixty-six votes were cast, of which D. A. Agnew received 64, Owen Clark 1 and Mrs. J. L. Jensen 1. The first named, who was recently appointed to fill a vacancy on the Board, was declared elected. A resolution asking the Board to put new floors in the ward building and make other necessary repairs, was unanimously adopted.

J. O. Raymond acted as chairman of the meeting in the Third ward, and L. R. Anderson as secretary. Out of a total of 102 votes cast, J. R. Congdon, the present president, received 101, and was therefore re-elected for the ensuing two years.

The Fourth ward cast 142 votes, and 123 of these were for A. J. Kujawa, who is the only new member on the Board. E. M. Capps acted as chairman, and Mr. Kujawa as secretary.

In the Fifth ward, A. B. Redfield was elected chairman and Miss Ella Ellenwood, secretary. C. H. McCready, the present member of the Board, was re-elected, receiving all but one of the twenty-two votes cast.

The vote cast in the Sixth ward was the smallest of any ward in the city, there being a total of only 16. Of this number Jas. Johnson received 10, Mrs. A. A. Phelps 3 and Mrs. Geo. Patch 2, and the first named was declared duly elected. W. J. Dumbleton acted as chairman of the meeting, and A. A. Phelps as secretary.

The Populist Convention.

Nine Populists met in convention at the court house, last Saturday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by S. A. Sherman, who was made chairman, and O. Bendixen secretary. The faithful were invited to seats inside the railing, but most of them preferred to remain on the outside. A committee on credentials was appointed, who reported the following representation: Amherst, Peter Peterson; Buena Vista, S. Gates; Plover, S. A. Sherman, Geo. Russell; city 2d ward, D. F. Kennedy; 5th ward, A. J. Larabee, J. C. Sherry, O. Bendixen; 6th ward, Geo. Gee. The report was accepted, after which it was moved to proceed to the election of five delegates to the state convention, which is held at Milwaukee today. The result was as follows, the last three mentioned being placed in nomination by Mr. Larabee, who held the floor to himself for the time being: D. F. Kennedy, Geo. Russell, S. A. Sherman, O. Bendixen and N. F. Lawler. The power of substitution was given the delegates, and also those present were authorized to cast the vote of the entire delegation. The chairman was authorized to select a person in each town in the county upon organization, and Bendixen suggested the names of Ole Pelixon, of New Hope, Geo. Russell, of Plover, and S. Gates, of Buena Vista, and someone else mentioned Peter Peterson, for Amherst. No action was taken on these suggestions. The delegates then retired to a side room for the purpose of discussing finance. Upon their return, S. A. Sherman read an address, in which he spoke of the members of the people's party being reformers for the purpose of rectifying the wrongs done our country, and that the leaders of the other parties were out for the purpose of enriching themselves at the expense of labor. Property values, he said, had decreased of late to less than one-fourth their former value. This was a broad statement to make, in view of the fact that at no time in the history of Portage county has real estate been bringing such prices as during the past year. He went back to the days of Moses, Christ and the Apostles, in speaking of reform, and then followed on up to the days of Greenbackism, which party, he said, put new life into the old parties, and then its mission was ended. Here the Democratic party was given a roast for not having fulfilled its mission when promising to send the Republicans up salt creek, and the Republicans were told that three-fourths of them did not know any more about the principles of tariff than a goose. Mr. Sherman closed his address with a promise to give an historical record of both the Democratic and Republican parties in the near future.

IN MONTHLY SESSION.

The City Council Transacts Important Business at Their Monthly Meeting Last Monday Evening.

Eleven aldermen were present at the council meeting, Monday evening, Ald. Maxfield being the only absentee. Applications for license from John Nowak and John Drzinski were referred to license committee, who afterwards reported in favor of granting same, and the report was accepted. N. B. Whitney and other residents of the North Side petitioned the council to widen an alley running from Franklin street to 5th avenue, making said alley or street 50 feet in width. Matter was referred to highway committee. Mrs. D. McGregor asked permission to build veranda along the front or south side of the Commercial Hotel, and same was granted. Street committee reported in favor of extending Union street from 5th avenue to city limits on condition that the necessary land be given to the city free of cost. Report was on motion adopted.

Ald Skinner asked further time to look up the matter of extending Reserve street, and the request was granted.

A special committee appointed at the last meeting reported in favor of ordering sidewalks built along both sides of Oak street, from Fremont to Division streets. The report was on motion accepted. Quarterly report of City Treasurer Moen, showing the sum of $7,944.28 in the general and highway funds, was read and referred to finance committee.

City Attorney Jones submitted an opinion relative to annulling or disproving what is known as the Boyington & Atwell plat, on the east end of Main and Brown streets. Mr. Jones informed the council that said plat could not be disproved. Opinion was accepted and placed on file.

Sidewalks were ordered built within twenty days on both sides of Brown street, between Prentice and Reserve streets, and the city surveyor was authorized to make the necessary survey. Walks were also ordered built on Elk street, from Mill to Wisconsin streets.

F. E. Bosworth, H. D. Bender and other property owners and residents on Brown street, presented a remonstrance against changing the electric light at the corner of Brown and Prentice streets. Ald. Baker moved that lights at corner of Brown and Prentice streets, and also at corner of Clark and Church streets, be allowed to remain in their present positions, and the motion was adopted.

H. Krohn and several other residents of the 6th ward presented a petition citing the fact that they live in close proximity to a lumber yard, and asking the council to extend water mains from Hemlock to Maple streets, and also down Hemlock street to Bliss avenue. Committee on fire department was instructed to look the matter up.

Committee to whom was referred the street railway ordinance submitted at the last meeting, asked and were granted further time to report.

An ordinance ordering sidewalks built on Oak street, was read and referred to highway committee.

A resolution was introduced by Ald. Baker and adopted, ordering four electric lights placed at the following street corners, within 30 days, and that the Lighting Co. be given the usual notice: Corner Center avenue and Fay street; corner Pine and Brawley streets; corner North 2d and 6th avenue; corner North and West streets.

On motion the teamsters at engine houses were allowed the privilege of getting repairing and horse-shoeing done to best advantage and convenience.

The committee on finance reported in favor of allowing a number of bills against the city. One bill was for the sum of $2,701.50, for hydrant rental for the past six months.

Ald. Skinner moved that the report of the license committee on the application of W. J. Richardson for a retail liquor license, be reconsidered, and that said Richardson be granted a license. The motion was adopted. Ald. Kieliszewski moved that John Okay be also granted a license, but on the ayes and noes being called the motion was lost by the following vote: Ayes, Ald. Polckard, Cushman, Kieliszewski and King; noes, Ald. Brill, Baker, Maine, McCready, Skinner, Johnson and Dumbleton.

Mayor Clark reported that two drinking fountains and a hook and ladder truck would probably be ordered within a few days, the committees having nearly come to an understanding on the matter. As to the hook and ladder outfit, Mr. Clark said he was very favorably impressed with one costing $500, which weighed 1,600 pounds, and among the ladders was one forty feet long.

Committee on fire department was instructed to get duplicate for damaged axle on hose wagon No. 2.

The city attorney was asked to submit opinion on matter of trespassing on Minnesota avenue, 6th ward.

J. F. Wylie addressed the council for a moment, asking for a favorable consideration of the street railway ordinance, and stating that the ordinance is similar to one submitted by Geo. A. Whiting, two years ago, with the addition of a bond for $2,000, for the faithful performance of contract.

Residents on Strong's avenue having complained to the aldermen that butchering was being done and a hog pen kept in the rear of a meat market on said avenue, the Chief of Police was instructed to investigate same.

Committee on fire department was given power to act on the petition of J. L. Prentice for permission to erect a new brick building on Strong's avenue.

Ald. Johnson and Dumbleton were appointed a committee to see that sidewalks were built along Church street, in the 6th ward.

Committee on city buildings were authorized to paper and repair sleeping rooms at both engine houses. The council then adjourned.

ARRIVAL OF THE GREAT DEAD.

Mme. Carnot Reaches Paris with Her Husband's Body.

PARIS, June 27.—Madame Carnot has returned to Paris from Lyons with the remains of the late president, confined in plain oak. The civil and police authorities received her. About 7,000 persons, principally members of the working class, were massed outside the railway station. About 6,000 persons were in the station at Dijon to silently salute the remains. The widow was accompanied by her three sons to Paris. The train was awaited at the terminus by a funeral wagon, two landaus, and a couple for the officers who went with the president to Lyons. The party were soon conveyed to the Palace of the Elisee. Enormous throngs of people gathered in front of the Elisee during the afternoon, favored ones being allowed to view the body of the late president in batches of ten and under the supervision of the Republican guards. A commission appointed to direct the obsequies of the president includes Colonel Chamoin, who will represent M. Carnot's family; M. Roujon, director of the Academy of Fine Arts; M. Huet, director of public works; Ambrose Thomas, M. Saint Saens and Architects Garnier and Guillaume.

New President Elected.

PARIS, June 28.—Nothing more unlike an American election could well be imagined than the French presidential election which has made M. Casimir-Perier president of the French republic. The electoral body, formed of both houses of the legislature, held its meeting in one vast room in the form of a parallelogram and adorned with battle paintings of the Bonaparte period, of proportionate size. The constitution ordains that the successful candidate for the presidency of the republic must have the highest number of votes above all other candidates. M. Casimir-Perier had 451 out of 833. There were 877 members present, but twenty-four abstained from voting. Premier Dupuy sat upon the ministerial bench at the head of his colleagues, and the political parties grouped themselves together in different parts of the hall. The balloting began amid considerable discussion between the senators and deputies.

In officially notifying M. Casimir-Perier of his election to the presidency M. Challemel-Lacour delivered an eloquent oration.

The new president received an immense ovation from the dense crowds of people who lined the route from Versailles to Paris.

DEMOCRATS OF MICHIGAN.

State Convention Nominates Candidates for United States Senator.

GRAND RAPIDS, June 28.—The Democratic state convention met and effected a permanent organization with Elliott G. Stevenson as chairman. Congratulations were wired to President Cleveland on motion of Don Dickinson and the following nominations were made: Edwin F. Uhl, for United States senator for the long term; ex-Lieutenant Governor John Stroug, for the short term—both by acclamation. Ex-Congressman Spencer O. Fisher for governor by acclamation and Milton F. Jordan, of Barry county, for lieutenant governor.

The platform committee reported at this point and the report was adopted. It endorses Cleveland and popular election of senators, and demands a free open waterway from the great lakes to the sea. The silver plank says: "We declare in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio that will permit the debtor, to pay their debts upon the same basis in which they were contracted," and demands that all currency be issued through the national treasury and be made full legal tender.

The ticket was completed as follows: For secretary of state, Lewis E. Ireland, of Allegan; state treasurer, Otto C. Karste, of Ironwood; auditor general, Frank H. Gill, of Grand Rapids; attorney general, James O'Hara, of Muskegon; commissioner of the state land office, Peter Mulvaney, of Marshall; superintendent of public instruction, Albert J. Jennings, of Manistee; member of the state board of education, Michael Devereaux, of Mount Pleasant.

REPUBLICAN GUBERNATORIAL NOMINEES IN CALIFORNIA AND VERMONT.

Morris M. Estee, the Republican candidate for governor of California, was first brought prominently before the country when he was selected as presiding officer of the national convention of his party at Chicago in 1888. He had been very prominent in California politics for years and had been speaker of the legislature and twice an unsuccessful candidate for governor.

Though a fluent speaker in the court-room, Mr. Estee has a singular knack of saying the wrong thing in the right place everywhere else. When he ended at Indianapolis to apprise President Elect Harrison of the action of the convention, he is reported to have said:

"When the convention began its proceedings, you were unthought of and your name unheard."

His fellow committeemen were thunderstruck, and one of them nudged Estee, who paused, smiled and said, "No, I did not mean that, so I'll start again." The result was a roar of laughter, in which the nominee and committee joined and which seemed to please the speaker as much as any one else. He began his speech and made a very brilliant address. This peculiarity seems to be constitutional and is the basis of many of his funny stories told about him in California and Oregon.

Mr. Estee is a native of Pennsylvania and moved to California a good many years ago. He has been very successful as a lawyer and farmer and owns a fine vineyard in Napa county. In the law he makes a specialty of railroad and corporation practice and is the author of a legal work known as "Estee's Pleadings," which has added materially to his professional reputation.

Captain Urban Andrian Woodbury, who was nominated for governor by the Republicans of Vermont on the same day Mr. Estee was chosen in California, was born in Acworth, N. H., 56 years ago. His parents removed to Vermont when he was 2 years old, and Urban was educated at the People's academy of Morrisville and was graduated at the medical department of the University of Vermont in 1889.

Woodbury served through the war as captain of Company D, Eleventh Vermont volunteers, and lost his right arm at Bull Run. After the war he settled in Burlington and engaged in the lumber business, in which he is still interested. He has been an alderman and mayor of Burlington, and in 1888 was elected lieutenant governor of the state. Captain Woodbury is a prominent Mason and also belongs to the Odd Fellows, G. A. R., the Loyal legion, the Sons of the American Revolution and the Knights of Pythias.

Although Nobody Loves Him, Lord Harcourt Has Been Successful in Politics.

If Henry Labouchere, the famous editor and M. P., makes the point he is fighting for, Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Liberal leader in the British house of commons, may soon be putting himself in the way of being abolished, for Sir William is meditating retirement from the commons so that he may be elevated to the house of lords, the august body of inherited English rulers Labouchere is endeavoring to wipe out.

Sir William is 67 years of age and was the second son of Rev. William V. Harcourt of Nuneham, Oxfordshire. He was educated at Trinity college, Cambridge, became a lawyer and won considerable reputation as a writer on international legal questions under the nom de plume of "Historicus." He was made a queen's counsel in 1866, was elected to parliament for Oxford two years later and the following year was appointed professor of international law at Cambridge. He was an ardent Liberal and was Gladstone's solicitor general in 1873. The same year he was knighted. Three years later he was made home secretary, and Lord Rosebery, the present English premier, was his under secretary.

Up to 1885 Harcourt opposed home rule bitterly, but that year he became a convert to Gladstone's new policy and was appointed chancellor of the exchequer. For many years Sir William has been considered

A lady who had long admired the peculiarly dignified bearing of a certain noted judge gladly accepted an invitation to call upon the eminent jurist at his own house in the company of one of his intimate friends. As they came in front of the house sounds of great hilarity were heard within. A man's voice mingled with those of children in ringing laughter.

"The judge's grandchildren must be spending the evening with him," said his friend.

A moment later the two ladies were ushered into the parlor, and a little fellow of 6 or 7 years sprang forward.

"Oh, Mrs. H.," he cried, "we are having the most fun! We are playing bear! He's in the library now! He'll be in here again in a minute, and you'd better look out, or he'll eat you up!"

At that moment the "bear" appeared between a pair of heavy portieres separating the parlor from the library. Some one under an immense bearskin rug, with the head still on it, was playing the bear.

The children fled, the bear pursuing them for a minute or two amid a perfect pandemonium of shrieks and laughter. Then the "bear" suddenly threw off its skin, and the caller was amazed, but not a bit displeased, to see the great and dignified judge himself on his hands and knees.

"That's true," was the reply.

"Well, I'd call a fast trotter 'Hard Boiled Egg.'"

"That's worse than any name I ever heard for a race horse."

Marston and the Waupaca Home.

EDITOR THE GAZETTE:—In last Thursday's issue of the Milwaukee Sentinel, Mr. Marston, of Appleton, has a long-winded screed in defense of the management of the Veterans' Home and in condemnation of the report of the committee appointed by the G. A. R.

He starts out by saying that he has been connected with the Home for seven years—six years too long—and denounces everybody who does not uphold the Home "push" in their evidence. Mr. Marston is very amusing if not logical. He refers to the witnesses who gave evidence against the management as "feeble-minded, lame and sick," yet he complains that 150 of these idiots were not called to the stand on his side of the case. Now, Mr. Marston, did you have all the intelligence in this camp corralled to give intelligent testimony for the "push" as against the old soldier? Is it not more likely that those 150 could be bulldozed into giving false testimony either intentionally or by reason of their infirmities? It is hardly to be expected that an inmate of the Home could compare with Mr. Marston in mental or physical power, but if some of us had played the role of "coffee-cooler" during the war we would not now be stranded here.

Mr. Marston also speaks of the "unwarranted interference" of Mayor Owen Clark, of Stevens Point, but he forgets to state wherein his interference was unwarranted. As a member of the G. A. R. he had a right to be there; indeed, it was his duty to be there to watch the interests of his comrades. He performed that duty well. All honor to him. Now, Mr. Marston, we have too much evidence that you and your class have gone on the principle that "anything is good enough for the old soldier," and the old soldier is getting very tired of it. There are abuses here that must be remedied and in time the good people of the state will apply the proper remedy. This fellow Marston cites causes that brought inmates to the Home, all of them more or less discreditable to them, thereby placing us in as contemptible a light as possible before the public. He probably does not know by actual experience or observation that there were people actually shot in battle during the late war. Marston lacks instincts of a soldier and a gentleman. He might do to run a poor house in Siberia, but is utterly unfit to have any power over an independent American soldier.

Waupaca, July 1st, 1891.

OLD SOLDIER.

TOM REID, the defeated candidate for the Republican congressional nomination in this district, is a smooth, sarcastic writer, as well as an able, fluent speaker, and on his return to Appleton, last Friday, he occupied nearly a column in his paper to give vent to his shattered feelings. One item is devoted to Mr. Lamoreux, the chairman of the meeting, for his able address, at the same time congratulating Senator Cullum upon the similarity of the thoughts expressed. Mr. Reid further charges that the result of the convention was determined more by Democratic than by Republican influence. This assertion must be denied from a Democratic standpoint, as while certain and several Democrats were induced, by both sides, it is asserted, to vote at the primaries, the result would have been precisely the same if they had stayed away. In no precinct can it be claimed that enough of them took part to change the result from what it would have been if they had attended to their own business, which they should have done in every instance. But Mr. Reid seems to have become firmly imbued with this idea, and concludes his article as follows: "And if, in that event, it should come to pass that the Democratic Shylock should demand his pound of flesh, this paper hopes that he will have the advantage of a second Daniel come to judgment."

MINOR WINS IN THE RACE.

Result of the Congressional Convention, Held in This City Last Thursday Afternoon.

The Republican convention for the 8th Congressional district, was held in this city last Thursday afternoon. A majority of the Minor delegates arrived in the city on Wednesday evening, and immediately upon the arrival of the Central from the east, which was over an hour late Thursday morning, the late arrivals favorable to that gentleman were corraled and escorted to one of the parlors at the Curran House, where a conference was held, and all attempts to reach any of them or secure admission by Thos. B. Reid or his friends proved fruitless.

This conference lasted until noon, and in the meantime things were lively about the hotel office. Reid had arrived on the morning train, being escorted by a finely uniformed band from Appleton, and some seventy-five residents of the Fox river valley, representing, as was said, the wealth, manufacturing interests, brains, bone and sinew of that section. Each one wore a badge with the words, "For Congress, T. B. Reid." They made a fine appearance as they marched through the streets to the hotel, but the words of a Minor man proved true: "They may wear their badges, jingle their gold and toot their horns, but we have got the votes, just the same, and Reid isn't in it." While the conference was being held with closed doors, Reid expressed his displeasure in unmistakable words, saying that he would leave it to his friends and delegates what to do, if this dark-chamber business was continued, and several of them, with fire in their eyes, exclaimed, "We know what to do." Still the doors leading to the much-sought-for room did not swing either outward or inward, and the gentlemen who "represented fifty millions of wealth" were left to their own meditation. At the noon hour a Minor delegate said they had 20 delegates solid, and not one of them could be changed.

The convention was called to order at 20 minutes past two o'clock in the afternoon by W. D. Connor, chairman of the congressional committee. F. B. Lamoreux was made temporary chairman and J. F. Cole, of Wood, temporary secretary. Upon taking the chair, Mr. Lamoreux delivered an address, in which he extolled the virtues of his party and condemned the inefficiency of the Democratic party. In mentioning the soldier governors of Wisconsin, he in some manner forgot to mention the present incumbent, Geo. W. Peck, whose war record is as good as the best. A committee on credentials was appointed, and during their absence short addresses were made by Benj. F. Goldberg, of Clintonville, and Dr. Dale of Iowa. Dr. Phillips was called for, but excused himself. The committee on credentials reported a full representation, 33 instead of 31, as in the original call, and the report was accepted. The temporary organization was then made permanent, after which a roll of the counties was called, the name of E. S. Minor being placed in nomination by Y. V. Dreutzer, of Door, and seconded by delegates from Kewaunee, Waupaca, Brown and Portage, Mr. Lamoreux speaking on behalf of this county. The name of T. B. Reid was presented by A. B. Whitman, of Outagamie county, and seconded by a delegate from Wood and another from Outagamie.

An informal ballot was then taken, which resulted in 21 votes being cast for Minor and 12 for Reid. Upon motion of Whitman, of Outagamie, the nomination of Minor was made unanimous. The name of Benj. Goldberg was mentioned for chairman of the congressional committee, by a delegate from Appleton, and a Door county delegate mentioned Henry Overbeck, Jr., of Sturgeon Bay. A motion to place Goldberg at the head of the delegation was lost, even the Waupaca delegates voting against him, they seeming to think that it was necessary to vote against everything that came from Outagamie, down to motion to honor one of their own men. A committee was finally selected as follows: Henry Overbeck, Jr., of Door, chairman; J. N. McCunn, of Brown; George Grummer, of Kewaunee; P. N. Peterson, of Portage; F. R. Dittmer, of Outagamie; W. D. Connor, of Wood; F. S. Baldwin of Waupaca. In the meantime Mr. Minor had been sent for, and on appearing before the convention made a speech. He said that he is a bimetalist and protectionist, waved the bloody shirt high in the air and closed by saying that not one thing had been done in the canvass but what was absolutely honorable. Mr. Reid was also called upon and made some happy remarks, in which disappointment was marked, even though he tried to conceal it.

The Railway Strike.

The A. R. U. strike or boycott has assumed massive proportions on most of the roads leading out of Chicago, as well as upon other lines, but as yet passenger traffic on the Wisconsin Central has not been interfered with. This is not the case with the freight business, however, which has been practically abandoned during the past few days, owing to the impossibility of controlling traffic at Chicago or St. Paul. At Chippewa Falls and west, there has been more or less trouble on account of many of the men refusing to work. In this city, however, most of the employees and trainmen have refused to quit, preferring to work and remain loyal to the Central, whom they know is in no way responsible for the lack of decency, fairness and humanity that is now and has long since been displayed by Geo. M. Pullman and his associates. When and how the strike will end is only a matter of conjecture, but the sooner the better, not only for the railroads and employees, but for the general public and business interests of the country as well.

—A fire that started beneath one of the lumber piles in Wallace & Karner's yard, and was undoubtedly caused by a spark from the mill smoke stack, called out the fire department shortly before noon on Monday. It was put out by the mill crew, however, before any damage occurred. The department was called out again in the afternoon, a fire having started beneath the small barn at Adam Adams' boarding house, on Water street. By remembering and strictly complying with this, much trouble and annoyance will be avoided.

—In answer to an item which recently appeared in the Journal, regarding those boys that have been sent to the Industrial School making an attempt to burglarize the Jackson Milling Co. office, is false, as the boys were at home at that hour. If the boys are guilty of the offense they are being punished for, it is no reason that they should be charged with other stealing. —The fire companies were called out twice last week, the first time on Thursday evening and again on Friday morning. The first time, a fire had started beneath the floor of the John Rice & Bro. Co. barn, near their machine shop, and was undoubtedly caused by a spark from the foundry, but was discovered in good time by C. E. Van Hecke. Some boys playing with fire crackers about the barn of Aug. Lutz, in the 6th ward, had set the roof of his barn on fire. The services of the department were not required in either case.

His wedding tour will consist of a trip through the Straits of Mackinaw, and thence in a northerly direction, where icicles grow in strength and beauty during July and August, and where the melodious voice of the bullfrog is never heard. When Mart. returns to this more southerly clime, he will be able to sing the praises of married life with even more fervor than he has heretofore mentioned the purity of his best allepice, pepper and cloves.

MATE LEROY ON THE REVIVAL OF THE TEA GOWN.
The Princess a Favorite With Women of Good Figure—Novelties in Fancy Corsets—New Styles in Summer Sleeves, Variegated Straw Hats.
Copyright, 1894, by American Press Association.
Tea gowns had such a sudden and violent rage that for a year they were worn at all hours of the day, and often they were slightly modified and worn as evening and reception dresses. They were loaded with the richest trimmings and made of the most sumptuous materials, and the amount of lace and ribbons used to decorate them must have made many a man's hair stand on end. Then they became too common to please those fastidious ladies who like to have something that everybody else does not, and they grow scarce for a season, but now the tea gown has with one fell swoop come down upon us again, more graceful and elegant than before, and is trimmed with even greater elaboration than ever.

I saw one yesterday that was most beautiful. It was of cream white camel's hair of the finest quality. The gown was cut princess shape, with extremely full back. The front opened over a panel of pink satin lavishly beaded in fine cut jet with a five inch fringe of the same. The side portions of the gown were embroidered with black velvet applique in arabesques and palm leaf pattern, all the outlining being done in very small gold beads. Where the palm leaf came at the bottom of the front it formed a scallop, and this was followed all around the bottom, and beneath the black velvet scallop formed by the leaf there was a narrow plaited ruffle of pink satin. The sleeves hung open in the old new bell shape, and they were embroidered in a similar manner, though in a smaller pattern. The sleeves were lined with pink satin. The neck was finished with scallops at the top formed by the palm leaves, which were set upside down, and a narrow quilling of black lace laid against the white neck. There was no collar of any description, as the neck was cut down quite to the collar bone. There was a bow with deep loops and long ends set at the back of the neck made of rich pink moire ribbon.
Another exquisite tea gown was of elegant green crepon, the back laid in deep godet plaits, which fell from the seams in the princess back. The neck was cut out square and had a black velvet yoke cut in points on the lower side. From this came a vandyke accordion plaited ruffle of elegant green silk muslin. There was a ruffle of the same style around the bottom of the skirt, headed by a row of black velvet ribbon. The front of the dress was loose, of elegant green silk muslin, and had four rows of black lace insertion laid down the front, each ended with a rich fringe of jet. Along the bottom of the front was a line row of beaded work, with imitation emeralds, black jet and gold beads mingled, sewed directly on the material, and beneath this was a fringe of chenille and the mingled beads. The upper portion of the sleeves was of faille to match the crepon, with lace falls. They reached only to the elbow.
There was another gown made almost exactly like this, but of oyster white bengaline, with Lincoln green velvet yoke and lace jabots down the sides of the front, which was made of apple green crepon du japon. The black lace insertion was laid down the front in the same manner, but the flounce was of fine black chenille. There is really no limit to the elegant designs shown in the new tea gowns. With each there is a tiny mite of a fancy cap.
The princess shape always was a favorite with women who have good figures, and the last two seasons have shown a marked increase in its popularity. A very elegant dress in this style made by a prominent house was of black "diagonal weave" silk. The rich fabric seemed almost to have grown upon the graceful young figure. It was opened on the left side under a row of wheels of heavy passementerie and was looped up a little on that side, just showing an underskirt of black velveta. The lower sleeves were also made of that beautiful fabric, and the upper ones of silk with a row of narrower passementerie like that on the body. The front was plain, but the back of the skirt ample and full.

Novelties during these days run more to fancy corsets than to anything more important, but the corset now makes the most important part of the costume. Very few are made entirely of the same material—that is, except the various "waists," which I do not count as really corsets. There are 20 variations on the Eton jacket, some of them very swell and stylish. Some of them are to wear with underwaists of different material, and others are made of the same. One of the prettiest conceits in this style was the gown itself was made of navy B. B. serge. The Eton jacket and gigot sleeves were made of cadet gray cloth. It had two lines of self covered buttons in graduated

DO FISH SHOW TEMPER.
The Finny Tribe May Indulge in Both Fun and Indignation.
A fish inquisitive or in a temper is undoubtedly an absurd idea at first sight, but the absurdity lessens on reflection. All animals of whose ways we have intimate knowledge reveal the emotions which the fisherman denies to fish. For example, children, lambs, young tigers, young lions, young monkeys, kittens and puppy dogs run at things which attract their eyes, and that without thought of eating them, and if they are thwarted or injured in the contact they are apt to rush at them again in irritation. If, then, we take it for granted that fish are incapable of curiosity and irritation, we are assuming that the minds of fish are fundamentally different from those of all living creatures with whose natures we are familiar.
That, when one thinks of it, would be an assumption so great as to be impossible of acceptance until it had been justified by the clearest reasoning. No reasoning whatsoever can be offered in its favor, and some can be offered against it. We have no authority for believing that the mental characteristics of fish are different from those of animals generally. We are used to believing this, but the usage is unintelligent. It probably springs from the separation of sympathies which come from our living in an "element" other than that of the salmon and the trout. If we were amphibious, we should have a clearer insight into their ways, and perhaps find that both fun and indignation lurk at times under the saturnine aspect of their visages.
As it is, some of us who have been in the accidental neighborhood of a shark have had cause to realize that, even as "a hungry man is an angry man," a hungry fish, when annoyed in pursuit of his meal, is angry, too, and not unwilling to risk his skin in vindication of his appetite and his wrath. Besides all fishermen, to their sorrow, know that there are times when salmon and trout rise bristly, but "not in earnest."

Many an exasperating hour have all of us spent with fish who give our flies a frequent poke or a frequent nibble at the tails of them and escape untouched. Many a time also have we found them rising at the fly not with their mouths, but with their tails, seeking to flick them under the surface and to "drown" them, to all appearance in the spirit in which a cat plays with a mouse. The analogy between fish and other creatures in the matter of curiosity and gambling goes even further. It may have been observed that it was the young of tigers and cats and dogs and other creatures that was so given to playing with things that attract their eyes, not the elderly animals so much.
Well, fish are in exactly the same case. —National Review.

No Clocks in Gambling Houses.
There are no clocks in gambling houses, and there never will be. There's a reason for this, and a good one, too, in the opinion of the gentlemen with huckle course shirt fronts who personally the tiger.
"Why don't you have a clock hanging up?" said one of them. "Cause they cost money. I don't mean it takes more than the result of one deal to pay for one of 'em in the first place, but they're expensive in the end. You see, it's this way: If we had a ticker on the wall and a fellow had promised to be home on the last card and he happened to look up and see that he had seven minutes to catch that car, why, it's nearly an even thing that he'd quit us and go home. That sort of business would soon burst us up. If he doesn't know what the time is, he misses his car. Then he doesn't give a rap what time he goes. He generally waits for the cable to start again. That's where our 'soft money' comes in. Men get reckless as the morning draws.
"No, sir. No clocks on my wall. I'm not going to fix things so that a man will have to lie to his wife when he tells her he didn't know what the time was. I don't like a liar now."

FANCY SLEEVES FOR SUMMER GOWN.
vel ribbon at the elbow, and a flounce of the same falling half way over the forearm, edged with flat insertion. The forearm is trimmed in the same way.
The fancy sleeves for evening dresses or afternoon, for dressy occasions, are puffed and otherwise ornamented in ways almost impossible to describe. One was of white and blue line silk on the forearm, to match the dress. The upper part was a puff of white silk crepe, arranged so that one portion dropped downward, and the other was pulled upward in a sort of shell-like series of puffs and fastened by a band and bow of tulle or blue velvet ribbon.
Another fancy sleeve was all of white silk crepe—the stiff, crisp kind—and this was a series of six puffs, the upper one standing up and the lower one drooping. The four center ones were smaller, though unequal in size. The forearm was plain, but had a black velvet cuff turned upward to a point and having a rosette of narrow black velvet ribbon on the wrist. This kind of sleeve was worn with a white china silk dress, where there was a marquerite puff around the bottom of the waist. One more fancy sleeve, and I shall say no more about them this time for fear they become monotonous. This sleeve was to wear with a very pretty dress of striped and crinkled crepon. There was one large balloon puff, and the fullness of this was gathered down to the lining on the upper side and held in, leaving a division. Below this was an accordion plaited frill, headed by a band of jet passementerie. There was another plaited frill at the wrist and two fancy jet buttons. I may mention that I have seen several slashed sleeves. These were generally of velvet or very rich silk, with the slashes filled in with silk or crepe of a contrasting color.
Some of the new straw hats have crowns of one color and brims of another, like purple and green or red and blue. Some have rough effects made by strands of different color woven in, but with so much trimming as is placed on them and the feelings of shirred tulle or Italian crepe one sees very little of the hat itself. One hat where the rough straw was made of green and white strands had a mass of trimming consisting of green moire ribbon of the exact silvery green of the under side of poplar leaves. There was besides a grape vine, with its creamy white tuffs of blossoms, its tendrils and finally two bunches of green grapes of different sizes. This was placed artistically on the top of the hat, and just under the bent part of the brim was a small cluster of ripe grapes and the faded leaves. The whole hat was really poetic.

I have noticed that the different shades of green appear to be very popular. They begin in grays, where the green is scarcely more than a suggestion, and then they are seen in sage, a frosty whitish tint over-casting it; then in rosea, which is of a rusty tinge. There is grasshopper green, lettuce, cabbage, poplar, apple, Nile, and then it strays into the mosses, myrtles, olives and lastly the emeralds, the Lincoln and hunters' green and bottle green. I think more than likely I have left out several distinct shades. Green is certainly a pleasing color, but the wearer must know how to treat it. There are greens that dark or sallow persons should keep at a distance from face, neck or hands, and then there are others that make such persons look fair. They must be studied.

Artificial Sugar.
For many years the artificial production of sugar has been the occasion of many experiments. The hope of obtaining by the union of certain chemical elements this valuable substance has led to efforts that have resulted in producing glucose, what is called "invert sugar" and many other exceedingly sweet elements, but in no case has the pure, normal sugar been found as the consequence of the numerous efforts in this direction. But little reliance is placed on the claims of an Italian scientist, who asserts that he has actually produced sugar from gases and vapor. The world will wait with no little interest for the still further development of the Italian's ideas, for to have made a single ounce of sugar is an achievement that will win fame and fortune for the indefatigable toiler in the chemical fields of the world. —New York Ledger.

Misdirected Zeal.
Here is a true story: Mr. Elliot Stock recently published a new edition of Thomas a Kempis. A favorable review was cut out by a news cutting agency and addressed to "Thomas A. Kempis, Esq.," care of his publisher, intimating that on receiving a guinea he could be supplied with all references to his writings. —Westminster Gazette.

JUNCTION CITY.

Work on the public highways is being pushed, and we can look for better roads.

Geo. Heitzinger, a brother of Mike Heitzinger, who resides here, died at Milladore June 16th. Kidney trouble was the cause of death. He leaves a wife and three children.

Plenty of rain now. For nearly four weeks this vicinity had been without a rain storm until Saturday last, and it came just in time to save crops.

Drs. Neupert took six inches more off Nels Fountain's limb, on Monday last.

Chas. Holbrook, Jr., is home on a visit. Charlie has been to Park Falls for some time.

What is the matter with our bridge builders? No bids are in yet on the proposed county line bridge.

Frank Berndick, of Milwaukee, visited his parents part of last week.

John Hall and A. Gower, of Stevens Point, visited H. Grasshorn, Friday last.

Children's day was observed at the M. E. church here last Sunday evening. The church was crowded, quite a number being unable to gain admittance. The church was decorated with flowers and plants in profusion. The music by the choir was fine, and the exercises by the children were splendid, each and every one who took part doing nicely. Much is due those who had in charge the preparation of the exercises.

[The above items were intended for our last issue, but came too late.—Ed.]

PENDERGAST, who murdered Mayor Harrison of Chicago, has been found sane by a jury and will die on the gallows July 13th.

THE Door County Democrat, published at the home of the Republican Congressional nominee for this district, contained the following squibs in its last issue: We did not believe that either Minor or Reid would be nominated. There are some sources of uncertainty in the district; and we believed republicans thought their chances sufficient to justify their putting a good man in the field, and making a sharp fight for success. We are happily disappointed.

The Democrats of the House re deemed the last of their pledges to the territories by passing last week, the bill for the admission of New Mexico as a state, the bills for the admission of Arizona and Utah having been passed months ago. There isn't much probability that either of these bills will be passed by the Senate at this session, as the regular appropriation bills have all to be acted upon, and everybody is anxious to adjourn at the earliest possible moment.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

An Appeal to the Citizens of Stevens Point in Behalf of the Sabbath Law, from the Executive Committee of the Sabbath League.

Fellow Citizens:—The great mass meeting held a few weeks ago, under the auspices of the Sabbath League, served two good purposes: First, the meeting itself, attended by over 800 people, addressed by representative men, with the mayor of the city on the platform, demonstrated the fact of a widespread desire among our people for better Sabbath observance. Second, from the general discussion of the subject, since the meeting, it has been conclusively proved that few, perhaps none, of the men that work on Sunday, really want to do so. One man says, "I would most gladly close up, if only the rest in my line of business would close." Another says, "I would close, but my customers abuse me unmercifully if I do." And yet all say, "We need our Sunday rest, and want to spend the day like other people with our families, and going to church, and enjoying ourselves."

Now the mass meeting emphasized the fact that there is a law on this subject. We desire to call your attention to it again:

Sec. 4595, Revised Statutes: "Any person who shall keep open his shop, warehouse or workhouse, or shall do any manner of labor, business or work, except works of necessity or charity, or be present at any dancing, or public diversion, show or entertainment, or take part in any sport, game or play on the first day of the week, shall be punished by fine not exceeding ten dollars, and such day shall be understood to include the time between the midnight preceding and the midnight following the said day, and no civil process shall be served or executed on said day."

By this statute the opening of saloons, of fruit and confectionery stores, of butchers', bakers' and barbers' shops, of newspaper and refreshment stands, of drug stores, except for physicians' supplies, and of all dry goods and grocery stores, and all ordinary work in other lines of business, is made unlawful. This is the plain meaning of the statute. We rejoice that their is a general observance of the law, but why not have it universal. Then no injustice would be done to any, and all would have their needed Sabbath rest. Shall we call on the mayor through the police to enforce the law? Fellow citizens, there is a better way, and that is for all of us voluntarily to respect and obey the statute. It would seem as if in a community like ours nothing more were needed than to know that this is law. But take the added fact, that seven days work continuously means intellectual, physical and moral decay, and none ought to think of doing themselves and the state this wrong.

The barbers have had their Sunday rest for a long time. The butchers enjoyed it through the winter, but under pressure have lately been opening. During the past week, however, they have come to the following agreement, that speaks for itself: "We, the butchers of Stevens Point, believing that the opening of our meat markets on the first day of the week is unnecessary and unlawful, and desiring for ourselves and our men that Sunday rest that the law declares all men entitled to, do hereby agree and pledge ourselves to keep our markets strictly closed for the rest of this season on Sunday, beginning with Sunday, July 1st."

The executive committee of the Sabbath League appeal to all citizens to accommodate themselves cheerfully to this agreement of the butchers, and not to make it hard for them. Their action is both reasonable and right, and it need occasion little inconvenience. Meat cooked on Saturday is in no danger of spoiling on Sunday, even without ice, and the butchers will give their patrons every opportunity to provide themselves with good fresh meat to a late hour Saturday night.

So also in regard to other lines of business. Is it true that any must keep open because patrons will abuse them if they close? Fellow citizens, the law was made for the buyer as well as for the seller. If it is unlawful for the store to be open on Sunday, it is morally wrong for the citizen to patronize on Sunday the open store. He thus shares the responsibility of a broken and dishonored law.

We appeal therefore most earnestly to all citizens to unite voluntarily in respecting this Sabbath law, and in this way contribute to advance our reputation as a law abiding people. This was one plea that we made for ourselves in asking the state to give us the Normal School. Let us justify this claim for morality and orderliness. All our interests will best be conserved in this way, and especially will the effect be most healthful on our children and youth in the direction of making them good citizens.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF SABBATH LEAGUE.

It is well known that there are hundreds of employees of the government who are credited to democratic Congressional districts without the consent or knowledge of any democrat residing in the district and that many of them have never been within 500 miles of the places which are given upon the department books as their homes. Of course this is unjust to the residents of those districts who wish to enter the government service. They are met at the start with the statement that the quota of their state is full, while as a matter of fact it isn't full: that is, not of bona fide residents. Democratic Congressmen have long been trying to get this wrong righted, and now success is in sight. Lists of all government employees credited to each of the states are to be furnished the Congressional delegations of those states, so that those who are improperly credited can be pointed out and removed from office, making room for an actual citizen of the state.

Five Dollars Reward.

I will give five dollars reward for any information that will enable me to prosecute to conviction any parties who deposit, or have deposited within a year, any sawdust, shavings or other deleterious matter in any of the streams in Waupaca, Waushara or Portage counties, and I will give a proportionate reward for information that will give me a successful prosecution of any other infringement of the fish and game laws in the same counties.

The names of any informants will not be divulged.

To Close.

I have a lot of ladies' silk shoulder shawls which I will close out at half price. If you want a bargain ask for them. M. CLIFFORD.

ONLY A FEW MORE DAYS.

Then Ringling Bros.' Great Shows will be seen in all their glory.

The pleasurable anticipation aroused by the contemplated visit of the Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows to this city is about to be realized, for the much-looked-for advent of this famous aggregation in Stevens Point occurs next Tuesday, July 10th. No exhibition that has ever visited this vicinity has ever been so comprehensive in its method of advertising or has ever succeeded in attracting so much attention by its pictorial wall announcements.

The finest lithograph printing ever seen in this city has been scattered with a profuse liberality such as no circus management, not backed by stupendous capital and re-enforced by a great amusement enterprise, could afford to display. It is gratifying to learn, through the press of other cities, that these marvelous specimens of the printer's art do not begin to tell the story of the wonders of this remarkable show, which comprises among its features such world-famous people as Lundin, the strongest man in the world, who lifts 3,500 pounds without an effort; the Brothers Hermann, the famous aerialists; the French family Gilet, famous Parisian acrobats; Josie Ashton and Mike Rooney, the leaders in equestrianism on both sides of the Atlantic; Akimoto's Troupe of Imperial Japanese, and many other arenic novelties. Special attention has been given this season to the horse fair and trained animal exhibitions, which have never been equaled. The menagerie, in addition to many other wonders, contains the only giraffe in America. The performance is given in three rings and upon two elevated stages, and the hippodrome races, which are made vastly exciting by the proffer of cash prizes to all winners, are run on the largest track ever constructed under canvas. The procession which inaugurates circus day will start promptly at 10 o'clock and pass over the principal down town streets. It is the largest, finest and most resplendent ever given by a circus. There are ten kinds of music, including a golden steam calliope and a great chime of silver bells. It will be worth coming miles to see.

THE Democratic State convention will be held at Milwaukee on Wednesday, Sept. 5th. Portage county will be entitled to five delegates.
